PRESS RELEASE, October 16th 2012 Leaping Trout Art Project

What do trout and motorcycles have in common? Two of the artists participating in the 2012 Leaping Trout Art Project produce artwork for custom built motorcycles, otherwise known as choppers.

Robb Ortel is an American artist best known for his work as the in-house airbrush artist on the reality television show American Chopper on the Discovery Channel where he is known for his unapologetic candor and never being afraid to speak up for what he is passionate about: high quality art.

Jason Pohl's "Dead End" is painted on a base of D.O.T.-approved all-weather, reflective yellow caution vinyl sign material. The bullet holes were made with a Sig Sauer P226 .40 caliber handgun. That's significant because the artwork is hanging in J Rocco's Restaurant, on Route 28 in Shandaken. Johnny Rocco was the name of the gangster played by Edward G. Robinson in the Humphrey Bogart/Lauren Bacall film "Key Largo".

Jason's artwork has been featured on American Chopper. It is no irony that J Rocco's Restaurant often hosts bikers cruising scenic Route 28.

The Leaping Trout Art Project wishes to thank Orange County Choppers for their essential and valuable contribution. The shop produced the precision aluminum-plate trout cut-outs used by the thirty-five participating artists.

About Trout Unlimited and the Leaping Trout Art Project

The Ashokan – Pepacton Watershed Chapter of Trout Unlimited has created the "Leaping Trout Art Project". This all-volunteer, community-based art project is designed to raise public awareness of the critical importance of water quality in the Catskill Watershed, the water supply for nine million New Yorkers.

Starting with identical 36-inch aluminum plate cutouts in the shape of a leaping trout, 35 local artists had creative freedom to work in any media to transform the blank 'canvas' into a rich mosaic of artwork for the public to enjoy.

These artworks are currently on display at various public locations from Phoenicia to Woodstock in Ulster County, NY. You can access a map of the Leaping Trout Art Trail at www.TheLeapingTrout.com

At the conclusion of the fishing season in the fall of 2012, the school of 35 trout will be swimming together for an exhibition at The Art Upstairs at 60 Main Street in Phoenicia with an opening reception on November 17th from 6 – 8PM. The exhibition will be on view through December 14th. Check www.ArtsUpstairs.com or (845)688-2142 for gallery hours.
